HOT LIST

MANN of the HOUR

At Fall High Point Market, venerable home furnishings company BAKER revealed the company has tapped Chicago- and New York-based designer KARA MANN to reimagine its MILLING ROAD collection. The resulting moody mix—Kara Mann Collection for Milling Road—are 54 statement pieces rooted in tradition but infused with Mann's signature flair. Think classics with attitude, from caned chairs with sharp, geometric shapes to dining tables with "fluid" metal legs. Beyond the unexpected finishes (ink hues), materials (metallic accents) and silhouettes (sharp shapes), the real winning details are the line's accessible price points. Available at Mathews Furniture; (404) 237-8271; mathewsfurniture.com

GRAPHIC REFRESH

With its relocation from ADAC West to Buckhead Square in the former Container Store space fresh on its heels, PORCELANOSA continues full-speed ahead, with fresh product for 2016. Among them is FOREST, a line of textured, graphic porcelain wall tiles available in 12 different colors and finishes, from classic marble to metallic silver in the form of hexagon tiles. Porcelanosa, (404) 973-0640; porcelanosa-usa.com

RISE & SHINE

George Sellers and Bradley Clifford's cutting-edge collection of objets d'art, from serpentine lamps to faux-bois consoles in the form of cast plaster, resin and bronze, have garnered quite a following since its launch as the ARETÉ COLLECTION in 2014, and its freshest clean-lined iterations, such as the Compass Rose console, pictured, are no exception. Through Bungalow Classic, (404) 351-9120; bungalowclassic.com

Daring Design

Inspired by J BANKS DESIGN GROUP founder and president Joni Vanderslice's frequent trips to Africa, KRAVET's new Tanzania fabric collection, designed by the South Carolina-based firm, presents a contemporary interpretation of traditional tribal designs. The performance fabrics and trims feature graphic patterns, colors and textures, a nod to traditional African cloths and carvings. Kravit, ADAC, (404) 816-7941; kravitcontract.com
