An awkward attic bathroom gets a full makeover for one lucky Florida teenager.

"IT'S IMPORTANT to make your bathroom beautiful—it sets the tone for your day," says Florida designer Cheryl Kees Clendenon. With this belief as her driving force, she set out to create a space that was "feminine, youthful, and happy" for a teen girl's en suite bath in Pensacola, all while incorporating sophisticated cabinetry detailing and vintage elements.

"My jumping-off point was a colorful floral print from Black Edition, with these exuberant pink bursts," Clendenon says. She tempered the girlish hue with a calmer blue on the built-in cabinets and added a single drop-in sink. "People underestimate the need for counter space in a bathroom," Clendenon says. "I made sure there was plenty of room for spreading everything out, from toiletries to hair products—it's essential for a teenager!"

To balance the room's newness, Clendenon selected a classic claw-foot tub by Victoria + Albert, perfect for a long soak. The addition of the dressing table was her final nod to femininity: "I wanted to capitalize on the natural light in this niche—it's a girl's best friend." —Carisha Swanson
