WHAT THE TAP IS THAT?

Step into a new kitchen these days, and you'll be amazed by what's on tap. Not only are there more faucets than ever, but they are also in unexpected places (who needs a sink?) and have surprises in store. Hiding below these unassuming spouts are innovative systems that will transform plain water into sparkling water, or even into a brewed café au lait. So drink to that!

Pssst...

Here's what's next: a faucet that dispenses water in cups and quart. Bye-bye, measuring cups.

OUT OF SIGHT

What if your version of a great kitchen is one that disappears when you don't need it? The seamless look, with appliances and cabinetry tucked behind paneled fronts, was just the start. Now a flock of modern-leaning companies offer designs that open and close with a gentle push. Envision yourself prepping food for guests and then closing up shop, leaving plenty of space to clink glasses and admire the neatness!
